The New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals provided their records to their tax accountant, Charles R. Wiedman, CPA prior to the extended due date. Unbeknownst to The New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Mr. Charles R. Wiedman, had a series of strokes on March 14, 2013 and was hospitalized until June 7, 2013. Subsequently he was in rehabilitation. Mr. Wiedman returned to the office in September 2013 and began meeting with clients and working with his staff. In November of 2013, it was discovered by his doctors that Mr. Wiedman was suffering from short-term memory loss and the doctors recommended that he take an extended leave from his practice. Until this time, Mr. Wiedman and his staff thought he would continue to service his clients. On March 7, 2014, my office received a letter from Mr. Wiedman's doctors stating that he would not be able to return to his practice in the foreseeable future (see attached letter).

I share space in the same building as Mr. Wiedman and his wife asked me to assist his office staff and service his clients in light of this new setback.

As I began to work on The New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals audits I realized that the original records given to Mr. Wiedman could not be located and the client and I were required to recreate the accounting information for 2013 and started working in 2014 and 2015 in order to complete the audits and tax returns. At this point, the audits are completed and I am in the process of requesting the reinstatement of the tax exempt status with the I.R.S.

Yes No
 If "Yes," please attach to this registration the relevant document.
20. Independent Auditor's Report

Report on the Financial Statements

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2013 and 2012 and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audits. I conducted my audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, I express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals as of December 31, 2013 and 2012 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE A – ORGANIZATION’S NOT-FOR-PROFIT ACTIVITIES

Created in 1868, the New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (NJ SPCA) is headquartered in New Brunswick, New Jersey. The NJ SPCA is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization whose primary program areas are anticruelty programs, animal welfare services, public education, and community outreach. Members consist mainly of volunteers who are only paid for court required appearances. The NJ SPCA’s mission is to protect all animals in New Jersey from cruelty and neglect.

In 2006, new statutes issued by the New Jersey legislature impacted the NJ SPCA concepts and activities by the following:

- 1) the organization was put under the oversight of the New Jersey Attorney General’s office,
- 2) the organization received a mandated function to prevent animal cruelty,
- 3) the State mandated function did not include state funding,
- 4) the County SPCAs in New Jersey received new charters from the NJ SPCA,
- 5) the Governor of New Jersey had the right to appoint three (3) Trustees to the board,
- 6) the concept of animal rights became more oriented toward domesticated animals,
- 7) the organization was granted greater law enforcement powers with members qualifying to carry firearms and make arrests,
- 8) required the organization’s existence to become more visible and recognized throughout New Jersey, since previously the name NJ SPCA had limited recognition,
- 9) required the organization to become more community services orientated in order to obtain more funding from the general community, instead of relying on funds from large bequests,
- 10) established a state wide hotline for reporting animal rights violations and therefore become more responsive to animal rights concerns within the community, and
- 11) report quarterly to the New Jersey Attorney General’s office the number of incoming calls made to the hotline and, in addition, the organization’s responses to these calls.

After 2007, the organization also increased its focus on obtaining more revenues through collection of fines from cases presented in front of municipal courts.

NOTE B – ORGANIZATION’S SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles (US GAAP) applicable to not-for-profit organizations as stated by FASB ASC 958-205-05-4 and FASB ASC 958-205-45-4.

Net Asset Classification

The NJ SPCA's net assets, revenues, gains, and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, the net assets of the NJ SPCA and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Unrestricted - resources that are available for the general support of the NJ SPCA's operations.

Temporarily Restricted - net assets of which the use has been restricted by donors to specific purposes and/or the passage of time. When a donor-imposed restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or a purpose is accomplished, those temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the accompanying statements of activities as net asset released from restrictions

Permanently Restricted - net assets whereby donors have stipulated that the property or principal contributed be invested and retained in perpetuity, with investment return available for expenditure according to the restrictions, if any, imposed by the donors.

The NJ SPCA's net assets did not have any amounts classified as temporary or permanently restricted as of December 31, 2013 and 2012.

Revenue Recognition

Contributions are considered to be available for unrestricted use, unless they are specifically restricted by the donor. Restricted contributions are reported as an increase in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets, depending on the nature of the restrictions. When a restriction expires (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or the purpose restriction is accomplished), temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified as unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions. The organization’s rules limit the stipulated time restriction to two (2) calendar years.

Members' Contributed Services

Contributed services are reported at fair value in the financial statements only when those services (1) create or enhance nonfinancial assets, or (2) require specialized skills provided by individuals possessing those skills and are services, which would be typically purchased if not provided by donation. The NJ SPCA reported contributed services revenue and related expense from volunteers for the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2012, $292,500 and $265,000, respectively.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents are defined as short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three (3) months or less.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost when purchased, and at fair value if received as a donation. Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation that is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Improvements that extend the useful life of an asset and additions put into use are capitalized. Repairs and maintenance that do not improve or extend the life of the respective asset are not capitalized and expensed as incurred. Upon retirement or disposition of a fixed asset, the fixed asset and related accumulated depreciation accounts are relieved of the applicable amounts, and any gain or loss is credited or charged to operations. Property and equipment are written down to fair value, when permanent impairment occurs.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

Expenses are presented according to the programs for which they were incurred and are summarized on a functional basis in the accompanying statements of activities. The various programs and supporting services of the NJ SPCA are as follows:

Anticruelty programs - includes Humane Law Enforcement in New Jersey and local legislative initiatives, as well as animal behavior, animal field investigations and response, and animal forensic activities.

Animal health services - includes all services related to vaccinations, hospitalizations, and similar animal care activities.

Public education and communication - includes activities to create public awareness of animal-related issues, such as media relations and appearances at trade shows.

Management and general - includes the direction of overall affairs of the NJ SPCA, such as administrative, accounting, and related areas.

Membership development and fund-raising - involves the direction of the overall fund-raising affairs of the NJ SPCA, which include development and related areas.

Accounting Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the organization's management to make estimates based on reasonable judgments, probabilities, and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reported period. As a result, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

The NJ SPCA qualifies as a tax-exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), and is not subject to federal income taxes. Accordingly, donors are entitled to a charitable contribution deduction as defined in the IRC. Continued qualification is contingent upon compliance with the requirements of the IRC. No provision for income taxes was required for 2013 or 2012.

The organization’s tax filings are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service for three years after the returns are filed, and the organization’s federal income tax returns for 2013 and 2012 remain open to examination.

NOTE C – ECONOMIC DEPENDENCY

The mission statement of the organization limits its flexibility for sources of funding to namely donations, bequests, collection of fines, and fund-raisers that support the organization’s basic goals. Occasionally, bequests and/or donations may impose restrictions on the use of provided resources for certain expenses and/or period of time. The organization does not get funding from the State of New Jersey and collection of fines are insufficient resources for the financial needs of the organization. The organization's ability to collect fines continues to present a major concern since 2008. The NJ SPCA via its website fulfills required activities of being more visible and promoting its anticruelty programs, which has led to greater presence at animal trade shows, endorsement, and an increase donations and bequests.

In addition, the organization competes with other organizations for local volunteer help. Volunteers must meet Humane Law Enforcement Officer (HLEO) training requirements mandated by the organization and State of New Jersey before becoming enforcement officers for the NJ SPCA. Upon successful completion of HLEO training, members are reimbursed for course fees by the NJ SPCA.

NOTE D – SIGNIFICANT CONCENTRATIONS OF RISK

Concentrations of credit risk could potentially arise due to the NJ SPCA maintaining cash and cash equivalents in bank deposit accounts that may exceed federally insured limits at times. To minimize risk, the NJ SPCA's cash accounts are held with high-credit quality financial institutions and limiting total cash balances in deposit accounts at those institutions to not exceed the current FDIC insurance limit.

NOTE E – LEGISLATIVE AGENT COSTS

In years 2013 and 2012, the organization incurred $14,250 and $17,625, respectively, in legislative agent costs for lobbying the legislature and the governor’s office for legislation protecting the legal mandate of the organization, and for protecting animal rights.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE G – RELATED PARTIES TRANSACTIONS

The NJ SPCA conducts business with several related parties during its course of operations which are disclosed below. A committee of the Board reviews samples of these transactions to determine if the terms of the transactions are conducted at arm's length. The committee deemed all related party transactions to be conducted on terms equivalent to arm's length in accordance with FASB ASC 850-10-50-5.

Historically, County SPCAs in New Jersey operated as quasi-independent Societies for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. When one of these county societies ceased operations, its net assets were transferred as unrestricted donations to the NJ SPCA. The statutes issued between 2004 and 2006 reorganized the relationship between the NJ SPCA and the County SPCAs with an increase in oversight authority and responsibility of the State SPCA over the County SPCAs.

The organization's treasurer, Frank Rizzo owns a company (Premiums and Promotions, Inc.), which provided promotional and related supplies in amounts of $3,244 and $12,340 to the NJ SPCA in 2013 and 2012, respectively.

A member of the organization, Joseph Biermann, owns a company (JBBMI), which provided bookkeeping services and maintained the operating cash account. JBBMI billed NJ SPCA $5,800 and $4,652 in 2013 and 2012, respectively.

A Trustee, Kevin Rudolph, owns a company (MidLand Auto), which provides repair and maintenance services to vehicles for the NJ SPCA. Repair and maintenance services transacted with MidLand Auto totaled $17,143 and $6,661 in 2013 and 2012, respectively.

NOTE H – SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The NJ SPCA evaluated its December 31, 2013 financial statements for subsequent events through October 17, 2016 the date the financial statements were available to be issued. The NJ SPCA is not aware of any subsequent events that would require additional recognition or disclosure in the accompanying financial statements.
